Plan

- 5-7 minute Film
- Message/Lesson behind the film: Time is more precious than we think, and we shouldn't take advantage of it.
- Guy (in his 20s) spends all his time isolated from everyone in his life, he has a mother who's very sick and he needs money to help with her treatment.
- Don't specify what the sickness is, it's not what's important here, so don't focus on that part, show just a few minutes of it.
- Instead of spending what little time he has with his mom and appreciating it, he spends his time investing in bitcoin.
- Bitcoin goes down and he loses a lot of money, there isn't much time left with his mother to survive.
- NOTE: Don't show his mom sick at the start, show it later on for suspense.

- The film opens with "Guy" stressed with his hands on his head, he picks up his phone, opens bitcoin, and keeps checking the stocks.
- Next scene, his friends call to ask if he wants to hang out with them, but he declines and says he's busy.
- His mother calls out his name from the other room, he goes to her, she asks for him to sit with him, and he tells her that he's busy.
- In this scene, we see his mother in bed at home, incredibly sick.
- He pulls out a box of his savings, counts how much money he has, and closes it.
- He keeps spending his time checking stocks and not sleeping at all.
- Morning comes and his alarm goes off saying "class!" he turns it off and continues to check stocks etc…
- We see that he skipped class.
- His friend calls to ask why he wasn't in class and he says he was busy.
- It's clear he hasn't been having a social life lately and is just busy worrying about his mom's health
- The next scene is of his mom coughing in bed, he passes by her bedroom and sees her, and instead of sitting with her he stresses on the app. but proceeds to check stocks.
- "A few weeks pass by"
- Bitcoin goes down and he loses a lot of money, there isn't much time left with his mother to survive.
- His mom is calling for him and he goes to her, she tells him that he needs to spend the last moments with her rather than getting money for a treatment that's too late for now.
- He sits with her for a bit but keeps on checking the app.
- At night, she calls out for him again, he is too focused that he doesn't hear him.
- 5 minutes later, we see her silently drift into sleep and when he comes to check on her, she doesn't reply to him and he doesn't feel any heartbeat.

Nawal Qaddoumi's Treatment:

Title:
Precious Moments

Logline:
When a young adult's mother becomes sick, her son neglects his life to gain money with stocks, so that he can help his mother go to a hospital and get treatment.

Plot Summary:
Andrea is extremely sick and needs money to afford to enter a hospital for treatment. Marco, Andrea's son stresses to get money to help his mother. Throughout the film, we see him on bitcoin trying to gain stocks neglecting his mother. Instead of spending time with ms smith, he spends all his time on bitcoin, ignoring classes, and not seeing any friends. Towards the end of the film, we see how he had an opportunity to sit with his mother, but he didn't because he was too focused on stocks. The movie ends with his mother in bed and Marco crying, down on his knees holding her hands and she passed away. I wanna show that in the span of just a few minutes your whole life can turn around, and that time is more precious than we think, and we shouldn't take advantage of it.

Key Characters:
- Marco Smith
- Andrea (Ms. Smith)
